Corrigan's Suit Against the Coney Island Jockey Club.

Firefly's Heavy Backing-Gossip

of the Track.

DE LACEY AND MONMOUTH.

The suit of Edward Corrigan, the Western turfman and owner of Hawthorne Park Race Track at Chicago, against the Coney Island Jockey Club, to compel the latter to accept his entries to their races, came up before Judge Gildersleeve yesterday. Lawyer John M. Bowers, for the Jockey Club, and Lawyer Abe Hummel for Corrigan, submitted arguments. In brief, the tenure of Mr. Bowers's arguments was that the Coney Island Jockey Club was a private corporation and could therefore do as it pleased. Mr. Hummel in reply admitted that the Coney Island Jockey Club had been a private corporation up to the time of the passage of the Ives Pool bill, when it was lifted into the position of a pub-lic corporation. Certain privileges were granted to the Jockey Club which made it subject to a great extent to the laws and restrictions of a municipal corporation. Judge Gildersieeve gave the lawyers a week to prepare briefs, and will render his decision in pare briefs, and about ten days.

This case is of unusual interest, for upon its decision hangs the fate of that autocratic institution known as the Board of Control. Lawyer John M. Bowers's declaration that the Coney Island Jockey Club is a private corporation puts the Board of Control in its proper light as a racing Trust, it being a combination of corporations. Corrigan's case is identical with those of certain Guttenburg Bernard Hollowitz Developed the horsemen, who intend suing for the right to a decision favorable to Corrigan be rendered, Bernard Hollowitz, seventeen years old, as removed from Gouverneur Hospital to the Board of Control's boycotting resolution North Brother Island to-day suffering from will be dissolved, and horsemen, no matter typhus fever.
